Excerpt: ... me have given me no small satisfaction, and I nowise doubt the sincerity of these good feelings, which I hope you will assist in confirming, as you have promised me by your letters that you would do. On my part I assure you that the love and friendship I bear towards him are most sincere, and that I am fully prepared to accomplish every thing I have promised. You request in your said letter, that the King your son my good brother, should take the Queen his wife my sister with him. He has himself made the same request, and is still more earnest to see her, which he is to do next Saturday, soon after which interview, he is to set out on his journey, in order to arrive on the day which has been fixed upon. To please him and you, I have also arranged that the Queen my said sister should follow him at a distance of four or five days, and as soon as the King your son, my good brother, has ratified and sworn to the treaties, and that all things are concluded between him and me, she shall be given up at Bayonne according to your desire. This shall be done by my Viceroy of Naples after he has liberated the King your son nay brother, and has received the hostages that are to be given. porte, laquelle ne fais doubte, et vous pryé que aydygs a lentretenir conime par vos Lettres mavez escript ferez, et de mon cou.-te je vous assure que lamour et amictie que jay a luy est toute bonne et vray, et que il ny aura faulte aux choses par moy promises; vous me pryéz par vos dittes Lettres que le Roy votre dit Filz mon bon Frere, puisse mener avec luy la Royne sa femme, ma seur, il ma pryé la semblable et davantaige de la veoir a quil fera Samedy prochain, et tost apres, se mettra en chemin pour estre dedens le jour qui a este conclud, et pour
